

Memorandum for Cabinet by the Hon. Minister of Works and Housing

Extension of Act II of 1949 (The Housing Act)

The Housing Act is due to expire on the 12th February, 1966.

Consideration was being given to making important amendments to the Act and to incorporate it into the permanent legislation, but Cabinet decided on the 26th October, 1965 that, for the time being, the Act should be extended from year to year.

Hon. Ministers are, therefore, asked to approve that Act II of 1949 (The Housing Act) shall continue in force for a period of one year until the 12th February, 1967.

13th November, 1965.
